

PROJECT PROFILE

JOHN G. MAHLER STUDENT CENTER
DALLAS BAPTIST UNIVERSITY
DALLAS TEXAS

Jim Booher of Booher/McGee Architects was commissioned by Dallas Baptist University to design a student center patterned after our nation's most historic building, Independence Hall. Booher chose Fiberglass Specialties to re-create the cupola, cornices, and balustrades. Using photographs of the original building, along with measurements and construction drawings obtained from the Library of Congress, Fiberglass Specialties designed and fabricated these elements, molding in authentic details,

"Manufacturers of Quality Architectural Fiberglass Products"